Hopkinsville, Ky,

Hopeinsville, Ky., July 9.—Quality and condition were even less desirable than last reported. Offerings consisted largely of to-bacco that had passed through the sweat and now shows mould and other damage from having been packed in too high order. Non-descripts and damaged tobaccos were unchanged in price, while all kinds in good condition ways rather higher. Farmers are comdition were rather higher. Farmers are comgrasshoppers and have been compelled to do an unusual quantity of replanting. Fortu-nately they have been favored with con-tinued good rainy seasons for the purpose. But the effect of such a large amount of re-planting will be to make the crop very un-even in size and much of it late.

AN INTERESTING EVENT

Nancy Hanks' Great Effort to Beat Sunol's 2:08 1-4-What is Hoped of Her-Virginia Trotting News. An event of more than ordinary importance to lovers of the trotting horse, and which had been anticipated with great interest for weeks past, was the effort of Nancy Hanks, 2:09, to beat the record of Sunol, 2:08%, the reigning empress of the trotting turf. The trial took place on Thursday last at Belmont Park, Philadelphia. The great mare falled to heat 2:08%, but scored a mile in 2:11%, thereby succeeding in lowering Suno's 2:11% made over the same track. Nancy Hanks went the mile without a skip or a break, and while not successful in lowering sunoils record yet a process. Sunoi's record, yet a mile in 2:11½ this early in the season is a highly creditable performance, being an evidence of what the unbeaten Nancy will accomplish later on. The most astate judges in this country consider her capable, when just right, of lowering the fastest record yet made by several seconds.

Last senson when matched against the great stallion Allerton, 2.09%, she scored a victory in 2:12, 2:12, 2:12%, the fastest three consecutive heats ever trotted in a race. She has been always a most consistent performer in all of her career, never having lost but one heat. Her future efforts will be watched with the greatest interest by the whole trotting here would ting horse world.

As the season advances, Virginia trotters are coming to the front. The bay gelding Vortex, by Walker Morrill, trotted to a record of 2:29% at Baltimore on May 3d, while Susie G. made a mark of 2:26% at Pottstown, Pa., on June 1st. the latter being sired by Alcalde, Jr. (by Alcalde, dam by Tremont), a stallion owned by John Hudgins, Esq., of Caroline county, but now in the hands of Mr. W. W. Hutchinson, of Berryville, this State are likely to enter the 2:30 list before the close of the season.

Mr. W. W. Brauer, of this city, has purchased from James Fletcher the bay mare Lady Harrington, by Walker Morrill. This mare mated with the gray mare Miss Finney (by Gray Eagle, son of Walker Morrill), also owned by Mr. Brauer, made the fastest pole team in the city. Captain William Allison, of this city, owns Captain William Allison, of this city, owns a fine double team in the beautiful brown mares Nellie A. and Cecil T., being full sisters and very highly bred sired by King Rene (sire of 17 on the 2:30 list), the greatest show horse in Kentucky, invincible in the herd ring, having captured eighteen first premiums ring, having captured eighteen first premiums and not a single defeat. first dam by Enfield, second dam by Conscript, full brother to American Clay; third dam slay Ferguson, the dam of Almont Eagle, 2:27, and Piedmont, 2:17/4, who sold for $27,000, now a successful sire in the stud of Senator Leland Stanford, of California. Mr. Allison also owns a brown mare, said to be by Brennan, that trotted a trial of 2:43/4 over the Whitby Farm half mile track, which makes a good mate for either of the King Rene mares.

Mr. Allan E. Donnan, of this city, is owner

Mr. Allan E. Donnan, of this city, is owner of the handsome bay mare Roanoke Maid, 2:22%, very fast and able to lower her record.

Mr. Samuel B. Nelson, proprietor of the large livery and boarding stable, 1321 east Franklin street, had the misfortune to lose by preumonia during the past week his also large livery and boarding stable, 1321 east Franklin street, had the misfortune to lose by pneumonia during the past week his elegantly-bred young stallion Odorico, chestnut horse, fealed 1889, by Juror, 2:24% (son of Pilot Mambrino, sire of N. T. H., 2:17%, &c.), first dam Incog. by Nutwood, second dam Easel (dam of Latitude, 2:19%), third Ouida (dam of Trinket, 2:14), by Rysdyk's Hambletonian 10, fourth dam Morning Glory, by imported Consternation. A good individual himself, Odorico, as it will be seen from the above, sprung from a splendid line of performers and producers, both sire and dam tracing to a line of producing dams—producers of 2:20 speed at that. Though Mr. Nelson is to be sympathized with in the loss of Odorico, he has another fine stallion in Money Hunter, 2:25%, who is doing well, and will materially reduce his record this season. Mr. H. C. Chamblin, of the Whitby Stock Farm, has sold to W. W. Brauer, of this city, the elegant bay filly, foaled 1831, by Egwood, 2:23, dam by Sam Purdy, 2:20%, for $500.

A. W. Archer, Esq., Exchange Hotel, has sold to Mr. William A. Walker a bay yearling coll by Egwood, 2:23, dam by Forgger (son of Edwin Forrest and Medora, by Pilot, Jr.), for $400.

It seems to be a pretty safe conclusion that at least seven trotters will equal or beat 2.08 packages.

The fame of the dead Virginia sire of trotters, Sam Purdy, 2:2056, is increasing. His son Charley C., 2:1956, is out winning money this season, and others will follow soon.

Good Roads Once More.

The cause of good roads goes marching on. There is no politics in it, consequently, when people get tired of discussing the presidential canvass in all of the sharp disagreements which that exercise implies, they can get to-Democrats and the rest, on the good road is-sue. It took the average American—who is nothing if not good-natured, patient and longsuffering—many years to appreciate that his country was cursed by its roads. But now that he has a realizing sense of that vital fact, he is resolutely bent upon radically reforming them. From all parts of the country come reports of movements of greater or less importance, having for their object the building of roads upon a scientific system, upon a system which will secure roads of permanent value, roads which secure roads of permanent value, roads which will contribute to the advancement of the common prosperity. Colonel Albert A. Pope, who is heartly enlisted in the cause of good roads, does not express himself too strongly when he says that "good roads cheapen the cost of transportation by saving time, reducing the wear of draught animals and of vehicles and thus lessen the cost of material to the producer and consumer. The modern development of 'slums,' the wretched outcome of life in tenement houses, can be laid to the bed roads existing in the farming discome of the in tenement nouses, can be late to the bad roads existing in the farming districts, which in certain seasons of the year prevent social intercourse, making country life cheerless, isolated and narrow."

One of the interesting results of the awakened popular interest in roads is the pending proposition to establish a special depart.

ing proposition to establish a special department of roadbuilding at the approaching World's Fair. The intention is to give the thousands upon thousands of Americans who will attend the fair an object lesson in roadbuilding, the lesson being reinforced by an exhibit of roadmaking machinery, which once learned they will reduce to practice in their respective commonwealths. Not a few thoughtful and experienced men who have turned their attention to the road problem are inclined to believe that its solution is largely conditioned upon the co-operation of the National Government. Those who hold to this view point out that in the early part of the century no less than sixty acts of Congress were passed after a full discussion of the constitutional questions involved for the construction and repair of natural roads, while of late years, however, nothing has been while or late years, however, nothing has been done at Washington for roads and practically nothing by State or local authorities. The suggestion for Federal aid has taken shape in a bill which provides for the appointment of a National Highway Committee. This committee is to consider the feasibility of co-operation by national. State and county authorities in a general system of road construction: to devise and formulate plans for the establishment of a national school of for the establishment of a national school of roads and bridges; to procure the exhibition at the World's Fair of the best methods and appliances for roadmaking, and to provide for practical instruction in the art free of cost, and collect and disseminate general informa-tion regarding roads and their improvement. There are a number of other provisions in

There are a number of other provisions in the bill, but these are its main features.

The measure, so far as its general princi-ples is concerned, has, as we have stated, many level headed backers. And even those who question its feasibility may well accord it a welcome, since necessarily it will lead to that full and free discussion of the general subject of roadmaking which ought to pre-cede any final determination. This is one of those peaceful revolutions which never go backward, and which ought to go forward. so dominated by common sense as ultimately to give the country a system of roads which shall prove a great blessing to our country-men, and help Uncie Sam to achieve his man-ifest destiny.—New York Tribune.
